Tutorial's steps

★ Step 1/7

Cut 3 x 1 m of each color. You will get a total of 15 threads.

★ Step 2/7

Start by grabbing one color from the right side and placing it in the center (be careful to grab all three threads of the same color at the same time). Pick up the same color threads on the left side and place them in the center as well. In the center, cross your left and right threads. Continue with the other colors. Measure the bracelet on your wrist. If it is too short, continue braiding your threads.

★ Step 3/7

To finish your friendship bracelet, make two regular braids on each side that you will finish with two knots. Using the ring, place a charm across the two small regular braids to make a clasp.

★ Step 4/7

You can add a thin chain with rhinestones. To do this, cut a piece of rhinestone chain the length of your bracelet and a piece of embroidery thread three times the length of your bracelet. Thread your thread onto a needle, make a knot. Make two stitches in the space between two rhinestones. Continue to the end of your chain. Tie a knot and cut the excess thread. Put a dot of glue on the knot so it doesn't move.

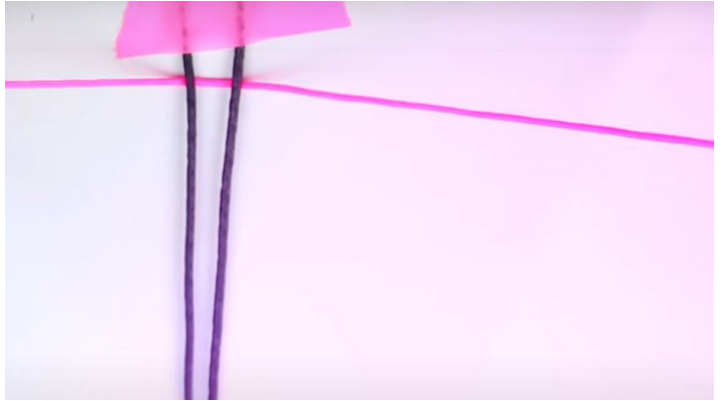

★ Step 5/7

BRAZILIAN BRACELET N° 2

Cut 45 cm of cord. Fold it in half.

Attach it to a table on each side with a piece of masking tape.

Place the nylon thread under the two strands of cord and find the middle of your thread.

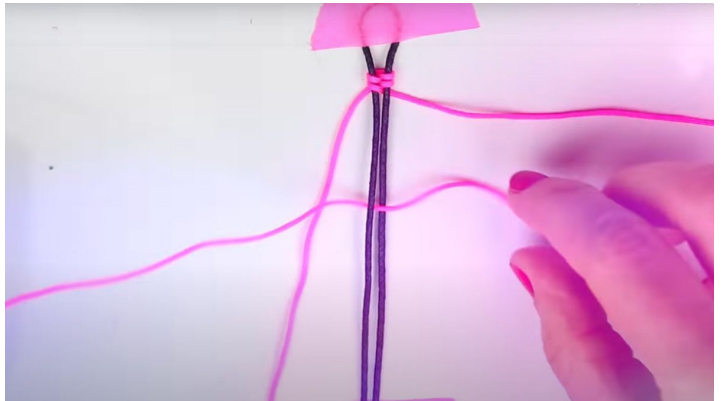

★ Step 6/7

Take the nylon thread from the right side. Thread it over the right side cord strand, then under the left side cord strand. Tighten.

Take the nylon thread from the left side. Pass it over the left side cord strand, then under the right side cord strand. Tighten.

Continue until you get the right size for your wrist.

★ Step 7/7

To finish the bracelet, tie a knot behind it. Trim the excess wire and burn as close as possible.

Add a button on one side and tie a knot with the other side.

Trim the excess wire and add a glue dot.
