Unalterable, unwearable and unchangeable, stainless steel jewelry has many advantages. Indeed, stainless steel is very interesting for designers: it is malleable and can be engraved. It is anti-allergenic and requires very little maintenance. It is an ecological metal: it is 100% recyclable and has a low impact on the environment because it does not release nickel. Moreover, the color and shine of stainless steel are reminiscent of silver except that it does not tarnish. Finally, this strong and durable metal appeals to men and women alike. But fans of the color gold can be reassured: they can also enjoy the benefits of stainless steel since it comes in a gold version. So, let's get creative? We have selected for you 20 creative ideas for making stainless steel jewelry:

- A ring decorated with a large acrylic link.
- A large link necklace alternating metal links and acrylic links.
