Earrings made with Fimo Leather polymer clay. How to work with the Fimo Leather range of clay?

This clay has the particularity of being very flexible and solid after firing, and its texture imitates leather fibers or, depending on your color mixes, can also give a velvety, felt-like appearance. All the colors in this "leather" range can be mixed together to create new, personal shades. Let this tutorial be your guide to making original earrings with their little arrows, which you can use to hang things like the two-tone rounds we've made.
