How to create geometric earrings?

Here is an easy jewelry tutorial that combines mounting of golden elements like these small semi-circle stud earrings and pearls to create your earrings. In the center, a glass bead in the shape of a star gives color to your earring. It is a Star Bead, a pearl designed internally by our team. We can say that it is the special pearl Perles & Co! This four-pointed star pearl is available in dozens of colors and effects.

Find a whole lot of tutorials to use with these beads:

The golden trapezoids and semi-circular studs of these earrings give them a retro style much appreciated at the moment. Big golden geometric jewelry and rectangular chains are the big 2020 jewelry trend.

Step 1:

Cut 60 cm of metal wire like copper wire and wrap it on the trapezoid. Leave 20 cm on one side and 40 cm on the other. Twist the two ends of the wire.

Step 2:

Wrap the shortest wire around the trapezoid by 1 cm.

Step 3:

Thread 6 gold seed beads 15/0, 1 Star bead and 6 other seed beads 15/0 on the longest thread. Take a turn on the other side of the trapezoid then pass the wire over and under the part of the wire suspended between the two sides of the trapezoid to prevent the beads from slipping. Then wrap it on 1 cm around the interlayer.

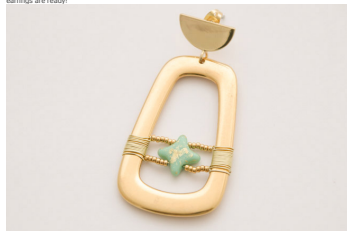

Step 4:

For the last round make a new crossing to maintain the pearls in the next step.

Step 5:

Thread 6 seed beads 15/0, go through the Star bead and thread 6 seed beads 15/0 again. Wrap the wire around the side of the trapezoid again making a turn around the wire that holds the beads to prevent them from slipping. Twist the ends of the wires on the back of the loop and flatten them against the interlayer. Cut off the excess wire. Open the ear stud ring and pass it through the hole in the spacer. Close everything and your DIY earrings are ready!
