How to make PureCrystal dangling earrings?

Pearly beads are a must-have again this winter. And not just any beads: irregular beads in different shades of color. Instead of perfect round beads, we're choosing beads with imperfections for a more natural, freshwater pearl effect.

Here, we've mixed pearly beads with XXL rondelles from the new PureCrystal "Embracing the next" collection. We love the pastel-powder pink tones of these earrings and the little touch of turquoise.

You'll find a wide choice of colors for the square earstuds and pearly beads on our site .

These large-beaded earrings are a throwback to the '70s. Wear with a loose knit sweater, jeans or a long flowing dress, whatever the occasion, these earrings go with everything and will bring a bohemian chic style to your wardrobe.

★ Step 2/3

Make a ring on one side of the brass wire using round pliers. Then pass the other side of the wire through the ring and form a circle.

★ Step 3/3

As on the picture, slide the ear stud and then make a double earring to close the earring correctly.
We explain in a technical sheet how to make a pigtail ring.
With a little patience, you will finish your earrings in no time!
