

CREOLES WITH BRAZILIAN BRACELET HEART IN SLAM STRINGS

By : Tiffanie Perles&Co

Easy

10h

How to make a Brazilian heart bracelet?

Slam yarns are polyester waxed yarns, like Linhasita yarns if you know this brand, but these are certified Oeko-Tex Standard 100, which guarantees that this yarn and its dyes are non-toxic and designed without harmful substances. The waxed thread allows you to make resistant micro macramé creations and guarantees a good hold of the knots. Normally, Brazilian bracelets are made with cotton thread, but in this tutorial, we have chosen to adapt the technique and use Slam strings. The advantage of using this thread, is that you can cut the bracelet directly and melt the end with a lighter. Thus, you can cover our flat creoles to decorate with your weaving, or stick it on a rush bracelet.

But of course, you can make Brazilian bracelets with cotton thread, we have put a thread kit in the list of variations at the bottom of the page. Before cutting your weaving, you will have to apply some Vinyl glue with a brush on the place where you want to cut it, wait for it to dry and cut the weaving.

It is also possible to make a classic Brazilian bracelet, which you will attach to your wrist with a knot. For this, keep more length of thread before the knot at the beginning to be able to tie it to your wrist afterwards or to make a sliding knot.

Which material to use for Creoles with Brazilian bracelet Heart in Slam strings?

SUPPLIES

35mm Wide hoop earrings to decorate - Gold Tone x2
Ref. : EAR-442
Quantity : 1

0.6mm Flat waxed polyester thread - Slam Cord for micro macramé - Pink x100m
Ref. : FIO-387
Quantity : 1

0.6mm Flat waxed polyester thread - Slam Cord for micro macramé - Fuchsia x100m
Ref. : FIO-393
Quantity : 1

SUPPLIES

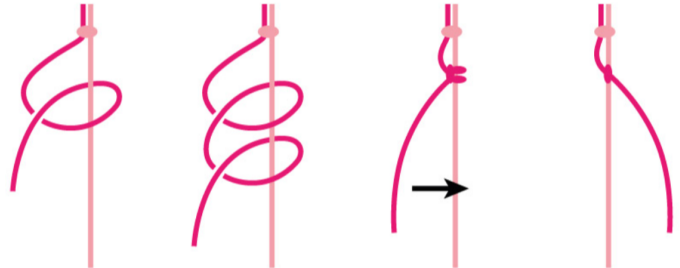

E-6000 glue Plus 26.6 ml x1
Ref. : OUTIL-302
Quantity : 1

steps

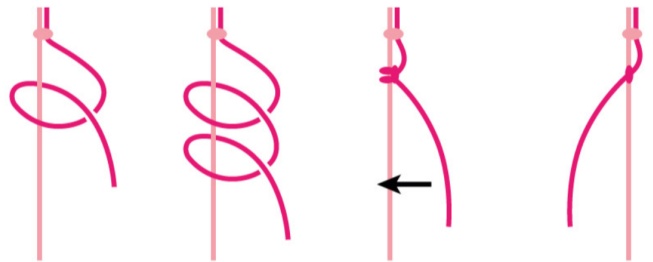

★ Step 1/29

The model of Brazilian bracelet that we will make is composed of only two different knots. The right knot and the left knot. Here is the diagram to make a right knot. Take the left wire and pass it around the right wire following the pattern. Tighten the loop and place it at the base of the remaining knots. Do this a second time. Then pass the right thread to the left from the front. The edge of the two knots now appears facing you.

★ Step 2/29

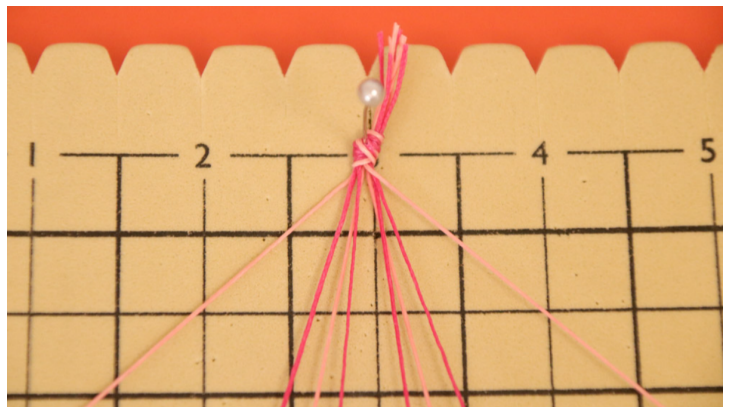

The left knot is the reverse of the right knot. Take the right-hand thread and tie it twice around the left-hand thread, then pass the thread from right to left to let the edge of the two knots appear facing you.

★ Step 3/29

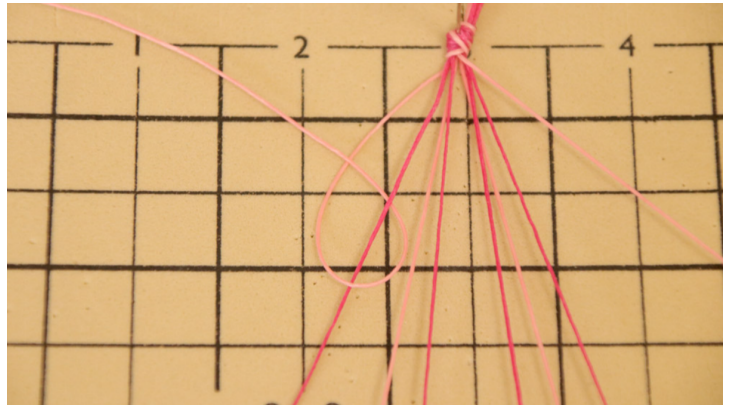

Cut 4 x 1.5 m of yarn of each color. Tie them together. If you're making a bracelet with a bow for the fastening, remember to keep more length than shown in the photo. You can attach your bracelet to something heavy, like a travel bag, with a safety pin, or use our special micro-macramé foam board.

Arrange the wires as shown in the photo: 1 light pink, 1 fuchsia, 1 light pink, 1 fuchsia, 1 fuchsia, 1 light pink, 1 fuchsia, 1 light pink.

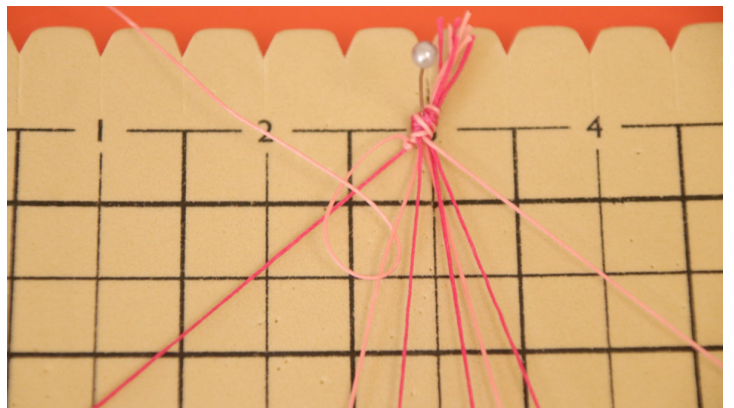

★ Step 4/29

Tie a straight knot with the light pink yarn over the fuchsia yarn to its right. Remember, to make a full knot, you need to make two loops each time.

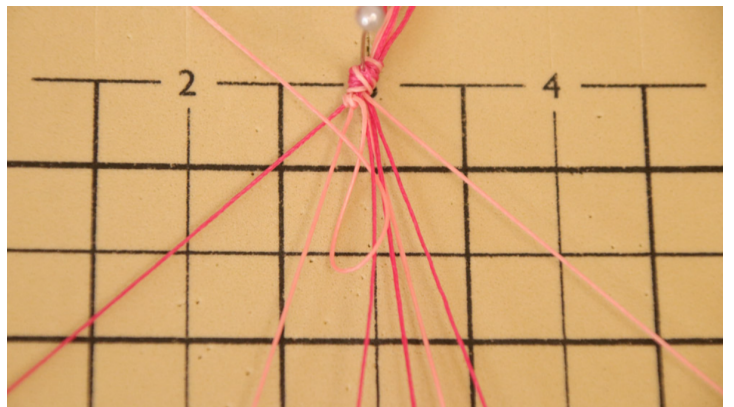

★ Step 5/29

Now tie a straight knot on the next light pink thread, always using the first light pink thread.

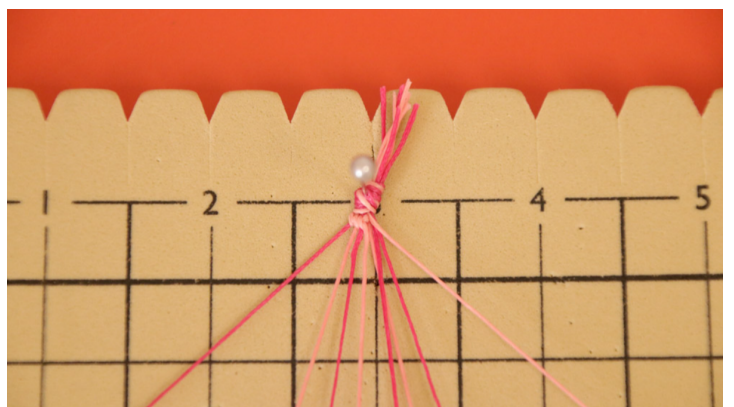

★ Step 6/29

Then a final right knot on the left center fuchsia thread, still with the same light pink thread.

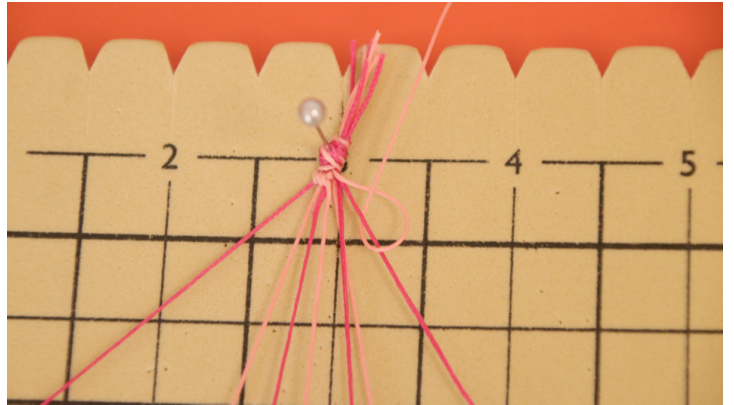

★ Step 7/29

Here is what you get so far. The light pink thread that was on the far left is now in the center of the bracelet.

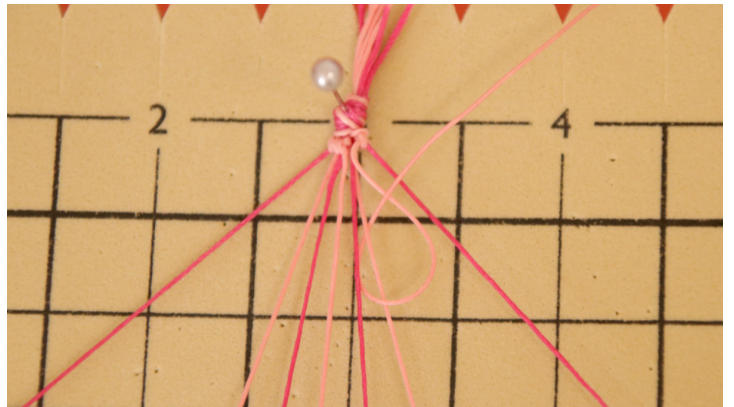

★ Step 8/29

Do the same thing on the other side by tying left knots with the light pink thread on the far right. You start by knotting it on the fuchsia thread on its left.

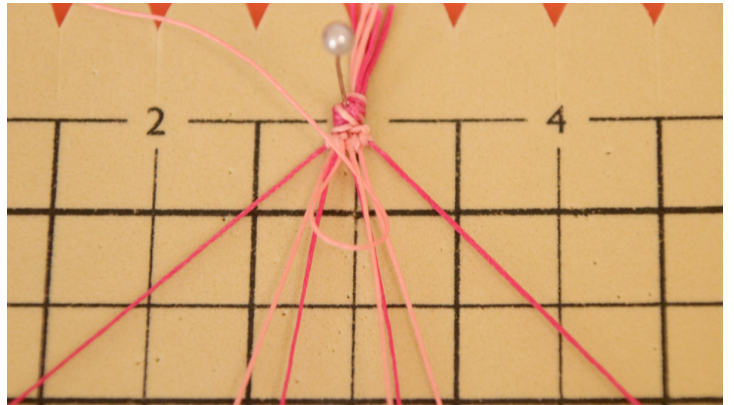

★ Step 9/29

Then, we tie the same light pink thread, to the light pink thread to the left of the first fuchsia thread. Then on the next fuchsia thread.

★ Step 10/29

Finally, tie the two light-colored threads together. Choose a right or left knot for the center and keep this knot all the way through for all the center knots.

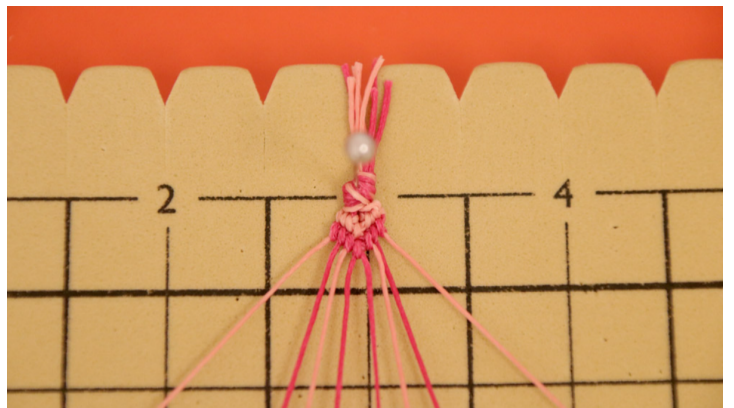

★ Step 11/29

Repeat steps 3-10 with the fuchsia wires on the right and left this time.

★ Step 12/29

Here is what you get. The two fuchsia threads on the outside are now knotted in the center.

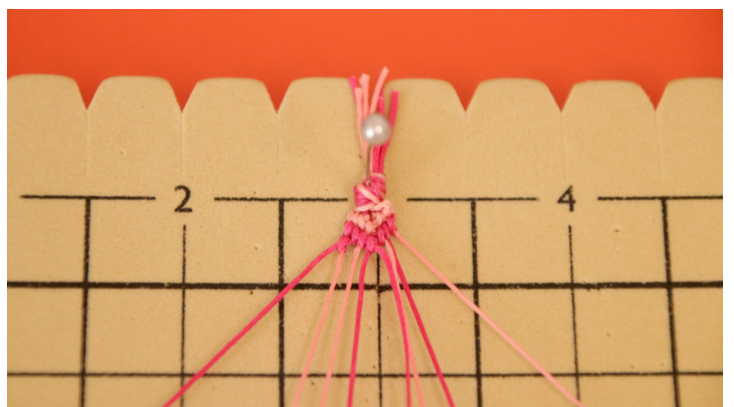

★ Step 13/29

This time, tie a left-hand knot with the fuchsia thread located to the right of the light pink outer thread.

★ Step 14/29

This is what you get.

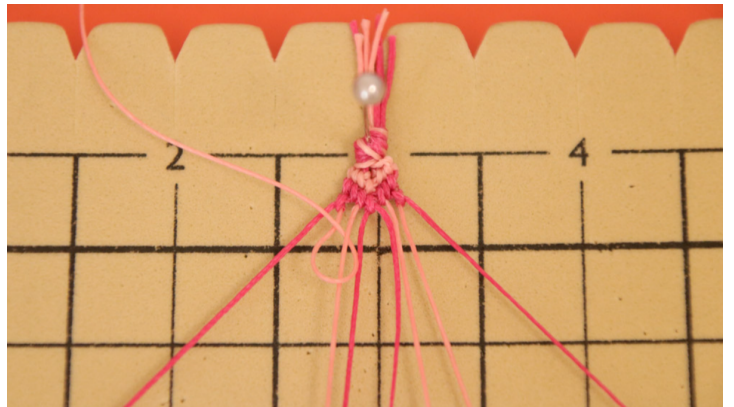

★ Step 15/29

Do the same on the other side with a straight knot.

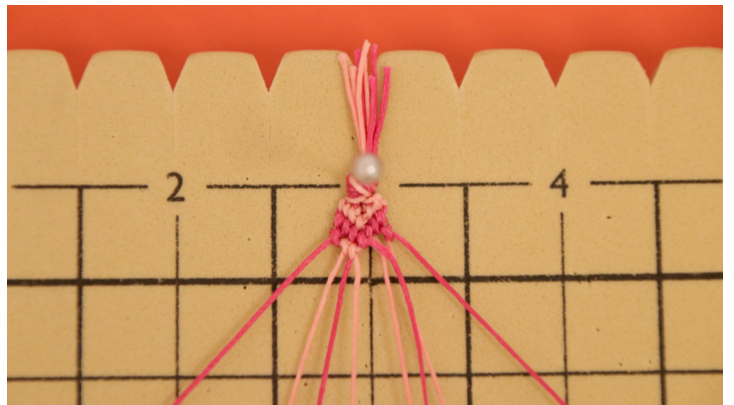

★ Step 16/29

Now take the light pink yarn on the left and tie straight knots on the other two yarns to bring it back to the center.

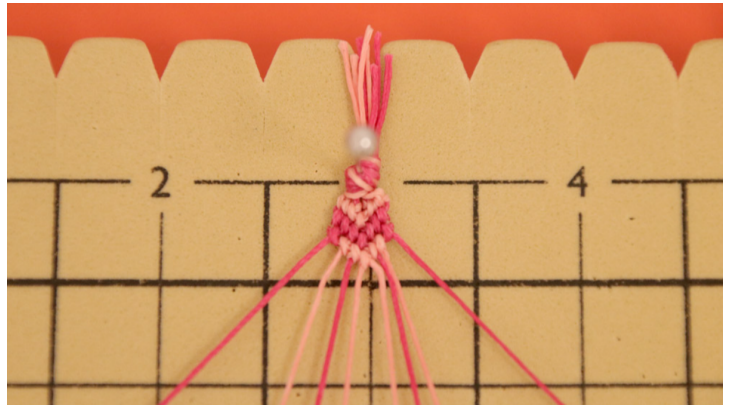

★ Step 17/29

This is what you get.

★ Step 18/29

Do the same on the other side with two left hand knots. Then tie the two light pink threads together.

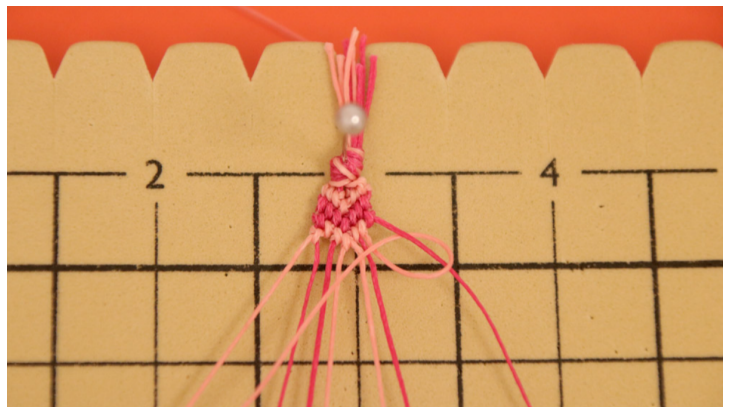

★ Step 19/29

Now tie a left-hand knot with the light pink yarn shown.

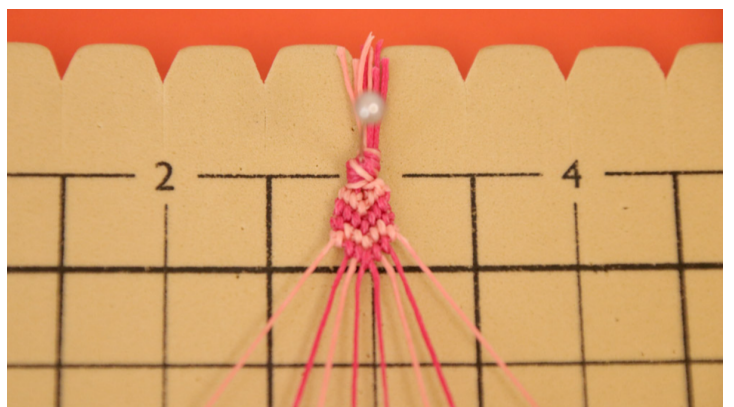

★ Step 20/29

Do the same thing on the right with a straight knot.

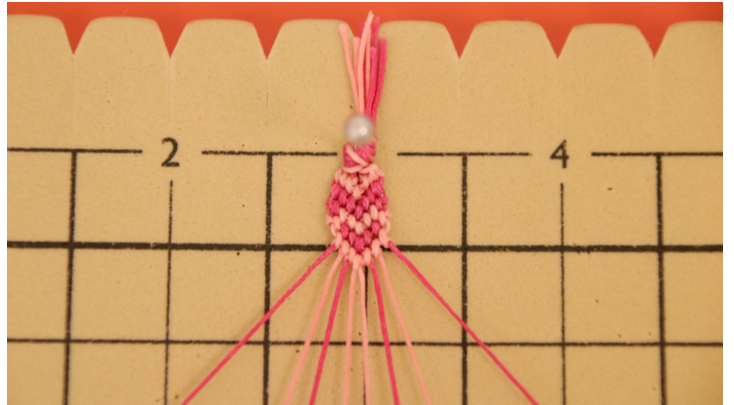

★ Step 21/29

Complete the bracelet by repeating steps 16-18 with the fuchsia thread this time.

★ Step 22/29

Take the light pink yarn on the left and make right knots to bring it back to the center. Take the right pink thread and tie left knots to bring it back to the center. Tie the two pink threads together in the center.

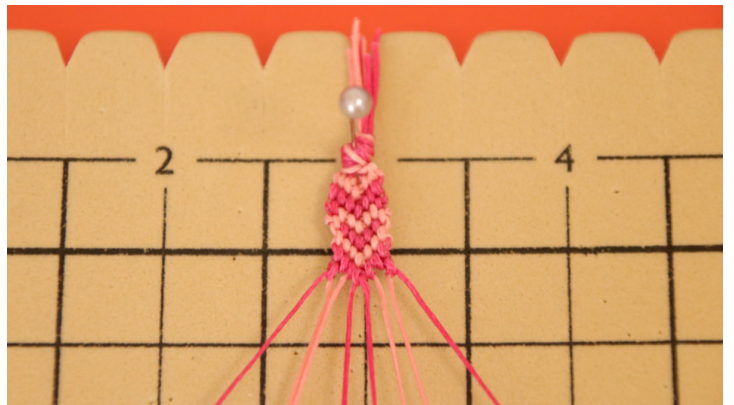

★ Step 23/29

Repeat the previous step with the two outer fuchsia wires.

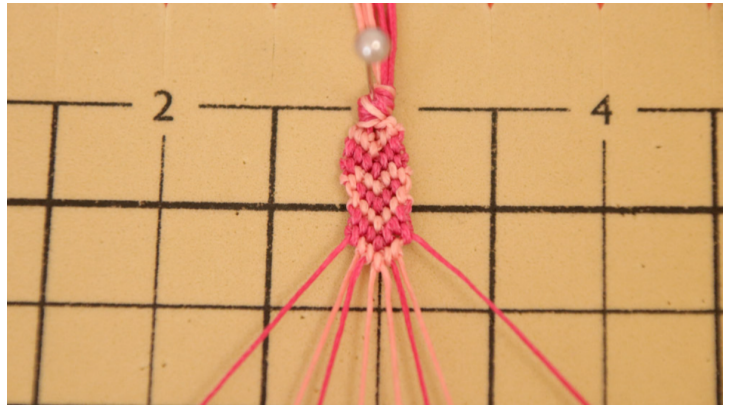

★ Step 24/29

Repeat steps 13 to 15.

★ Step 25/29

Repeat steps 16 to 18. Continue braiding the Brazilian bracelet by repeating the steps. You need to make the pair of bracelets 23 cm long (11.5 cm per brace). For a bracelet, make the length of your wrist.

★ Step 26/29

Once finished, cut the base of the braid and burn the end with a lighter. Be careful, approach the flame slowly. If the wire catches fire, it will turn black and it won't be pretty.

★ Step 27/29

Glue the braid to the creole starting from the side with the ear stud. You can use jewelry glue or strong glue. Hold the weave in place while the glue dries with small wooden clips. Remove them after an hour.

★ Step 28/29

Cut the other side and melt the wire with the lighter.

★ Step 29/29

You can also glue your weaving on this type of bracelet.

Result