How to create a gold-plated stainless steel sun bracelet?

Be seduced by this bracelet model in gold-plated stainless steel, featuring magnificent hammered sunburst spacers! It's the perfect match for light dresses, cotton tops, flowing skirts or colorful jumpsuits. Whether you're going on vacation, strolling through town or enjoying a barbecue with friends, it'll add that little extra touch to all your summer outfits. This quick and easy jewelry mounting system is accessible to jewelry-making beginners. You'll need to know just one technique: how to open and close a ring. It's one of the basics of costume jewelry design.

This quick and easy jewelry assembly is ideal for beginners who want to get started with costume jewelry. To make this bracelet, all you need is a pair of flat-nose pliers and a pair of round-nose pliers. In just a few minutes, you'll be able to assemble the elements with precision and create a beautiful piece of handmade star jewelry you'll be proud of.

The design features nine sunburst spacers, mounted on rings and finished with a Lobster Clasp. This makes a bracelet approximately 16 cm long, perfect for a 15 cm wrist. Need a little more length? Simply add an extra sun to gain 1.5 cm. This simple system allows you to adjust the bracelet to your size or that of the person you wish to give it to.

All bracelet components are made of gold-plated stainless steel: a material particularly appreciated for its resistance to oxidation and its durability. Unlike gold-plated brass, stainless steel retains its lustre for longer, and is highly resistant to contact with water or perspiration. A real plus for a jewel you can wear every day, without worrying about damaging it!
