How to make a Miyuki bead bracelet using the peyote chevron technique?

Discover this new tutorial from our creative partner Sophie aka Elyconia, to learn how to make a beautiful woven herringbone bracelet in subtle shades of icy blue and silver. This beaded bracelet is made using the peyote chevron technique. We'll guide you step by step through each stage, giving you detailed explanations and teaching you how to weave this original and exclusive shape.

Sophie strongly recommends that you follow the whole tutorial, where you'll have no trouble understanding and completing all the steps. However, it is advisable to have some knowledge of bead weaving, in particular the knowledge and handling of the even or odd peyote technique. In fact, the particularity of this technique lies in maintaining the weave, the precision of the gesture and the right distribution of tension throughout the making of the bracelet.

If you're a beginner, you can start practicing with our various peyote technique tutorials, or refer to our technical sheets to learn the odd or even peyote technique.

We've created this herringbone bracelet in soft, frosted colors in a cameo of blue mixed with 925 Sterling Silver primers, like a pretty snowflake on your wrist. You can, of course, vary the seasonal colors and opt for a warmer palette in shades of brown/terracotta or violet/Burgundy with gold-finish primers, for example. We have a wide selection of Miyuki Delica 11/0 on the site.

If you reproduce this Miyuki DIY bracelet tutorial, we invite you to share your creation with us on social networks, mentioning Perles & Co and Elyconia on your post. We love to see the beautiful creations you make! Ready, set, create!
