This earrings tutorial takes you step by step through the creation of seabed-inspired jewelry: colorful, summery dangling earrings that are both light to wear and simple to make. A project designed for all those who want to get started with DIY earrings without the headache, right from the very first try.

To make earrings that capture all the magic of the ocean, this creation from the Odyssée Perlée collection brings together three elements full of character: a stainless steel starfish-shaped stud, a warmly hued orange resin bead, and a delicate ceramic fish to complete the ensemble. The result: colorful marine jewelry, perfect for enhancing a summer outfit from the seaside to the terrace.

This beginner's jewelry tutorial has been designed to be accessible to all, even those with no experience of creative jewelry-making. The stainless steel jewels used as a base guarantee appreciable strength and lightness for everyday wear, as well as durability for summer-long enjoyment. In just 15 minutes, you'll have a unique pair of summer jewels, entirely handcrafted in the colorful, joyful spirit of the Odyssée Perlée collection.

Slide a flat-headed nail into each ceramic fish and use the nail to make a loop.

To make a loop :

Using wire cutters, cut the nail so that you have 2 cm of wire left. Then form a loop using round-tipped pliers.

You can also use our data sheet: Forming a loop on a nail or jewelry pin.

★ Step 2/3

Then slide a round-headed nail into each resin bead and loop each nail again. Do not close the loop completely, so that it can be hooked with the ceramic fish bead nail.

★ Step 3/3

Finish by slipping the loop onto the other end of the resin bead on your stud. Now you can make the second earring!
