How can you easily make elastic bracelets for summer?

You'll love these colorful elastic bracelets—perfect for summer! They're quick and easy to make, and you can create several different styles by using various shapes and combinations of beads. Just thread the beads onto elastic cord, tie a knot... and you're done!

Whether you prefer soft colors or bolder combinations, these bracelets are perfect for wearing alone or layered. A project anyone can do, ideal for treating yourself or making a lovely handmade gift.

Have fun mixing and matching the colors, shapes, and sizes of the beads to create bracelets that reflect your personal style. These designs pair effortlessly with all your summer outfits and add a touch of whimsy to your wrist. Thanks to their simple assembly, they're also perfect for a creative activity to share with family or friends. Make several to create a trendy layered look, or give them to your loved ones as a handmade gift that's sure to please.

Perles & Co Step 1/2

Cut about 25 cm of elastic cord.

Thread the beads, alternating colors as you like. Here, the yellow beads are interspersed with a few orange beads to create contrast.

Check the fit around your wrist regularly.

Once the bracelet is finished, tie a surgeon's knot.

Perles & Co Step 2/2

Here, I chose to alternate yellow and orange beads, but feel free to create whatever combination you like! The most important thing is to tie a secure surgeon's knot so the bracelet is sturdy.

You can also add a small drop of glue to the knot for even more security.
